1. Chapter 1

[Camera zooms in on Chris]

"Hello And Welcome To The New Season Of Total Drama! Im Chris MacLane! And This Is Total Drama Big Four!" Chris announced.

"All New Players And In This Season There Will Four Team! And This Time We're Going More Global With The Players! And Here They Come"

"Let's Meet Them!"

[Switches to camera on boat]

All 24 teens road in on the boat, a blue eyed blond growled as a blue grey haired guy bumped into her, "Watch it!" She barked. "Aaw pipe it blondy," he growled with a thick Australian accent. There were 18 boys and 6 girls, they were all 16-to-20 of age, there ones that were either real tall or real buff, a few that looked younger then they were and some with odd hair colors.

"Talk about some loud mouths..." a blue eyed albino teen snickered walking over to an auburn brunette as he looked at his new surroundings. the taller teen looked around 19, he wore a blue hoodie, brown jeans, and brown sandals, his bleach white hair was messy, but the color looked natural, same with his black eye brows.

"Nice view hu..?" The taller teen asked smiling leaning against the railing. "Uh... y-yeah..." the green eyed brunette agreed blushing. The brunette had freckled sprinkled all over his face, light tan skin, a cute button nose, and big emerald green eyes, he wore a brown sleeveless jacket, a long sleeve green shirt with a V neck collar, brown pants with matching boots and green glasses.

A really tall one with blue eyes and dark hair, "Wonder what the first challenge will be..." he asked himself somewhat worried. He was really tall and thin he wore a white long sleeve shirt a grey sleeveless vest, grey pants with dark grey stripes, black shoes and green gardening gloves. "I'm sure we wont have to jump off a cliff" said a boy with short brown hair and eyes.

"That Would Be Awesome Though!" said a girl with black hair who sounded like she was high on sugar. "No it wouldn't" replied a boy with dark brown hair that stood up, "But it would be better then almost getting eaten by a land shark..." he said rather grimly. "Well at least the island isn't toxic anymore, then we'd have to deal with a bunch of mutant animals," A girl with short brown hair reassured him.

The boat docked and all the teens got off the boat and gathered, "Alright, now before we begin the challenge I'd like to divide you all into teams, and explain what will be into play for this season," all the teens listened closely. "Now we had a computer to randomly put you into groups, so lets get started" the short man announced taking out the list.

"Team 1: The Guardians

Jack frost

Nick st. North

Tina Hummingbird Faery

Evan Aster. Bunnymund

Sanderson Mansnoozie

Kozmozis Pitchiner Black

Please stand on the blue platform with the G and white Poodle Moth symbol"

All the teens stood in place. "This will be a fun team," the albino teen known as Jack said happily looking at his team mates.

"Ok,

Team 2: The Braves

Merida

Venelopy Van Sweet

Norman

Young Mactosh

Young MacGuffin

And Wee Dingwall,

Stand on the red platform with the B and Bear"

The did so with out question and the red head known as Merida blew her hair out of her face. "Perfect... a sugar high girl, and 3 awkward boys..."

"Team 3: The Vikings

Hiccup Horrendous Haddock
lll

Astrid

Fishlegs

Snotlout

Ruffnut

Tuffnut

Stand on the green platform with the dragon"

All the teens stood in place and hiccup looked around and noticed something.

And finally,

Team 4: The Knights

Rapunzel Sunly (Punzie)

Eugene Fithurbert

Maximums Horas (Max)

Pascal Lizard

Once-ler

Jamie Bennett

Stand on the purple platform with the brown bear,"

They all did so and Hiccup decided it was time to speak up, "The teams are mostly made of the people who are from the same towns..." he said crossing his arms, "So we didn't randomly divide you guys, we got lazy... sue us!"

"Now if your all finished, I'll get to what we'll do this season, like last season, there will be an invincibility statue, but you can trade it in to get a Team mate who's been kicked off or for a runner up contestant,

As for your challenge, you will need to catch a mascots for you teams, who might be useful in later challenges, and the mascots are on your platforms."

"Wait A Sec! We have To Get A Bear!? Are You Insane!?" Merida shouted, "How The Hell Are We Suppose To Catch A Dragon!? They Don't Even Excist!" Astrid shouted getting ready to punch the short host. "Oh, don't worry, because to get your mascots you have to go to Boney Island, but be careful, thats were we put all the mutant animals, oh and there's more then one dragon on it, so good luck... oh and if you don't do it you'll be eliminated!" he laughed.

"So put you bags in your cabins and we'll get started."

{switches camera's}

Everyone was in they're cabins putting they're stuff away and fighting over the beds, all the guys had to share and cabin, and so did all the girls. "Hey I'm gonna take the top bunk if thats alright with you," Jack said smiling at Hiccup, "Oh.. uh.. sure, I don't mind..." Hiccup said blushing. "Thank's cutie..." he said kissing the smaller teens forehead. Hiccup's face turned bright red highlighting his cute freckles, Jack just smiled and patted his head.

"Those two hit it off quickly..." Evan said rolling his eyes.

"Don't blame him, Hiccup is kinda cute," Oncie said putting his clothes away. All the cabin members looked at him funny and he blushed letting out an uneasy chuckle, /Me and my big mouth.../

Once they were finished, Chris took them to the beach and gave them all life jackets, "You'll have to row to boney island, and you have till sun down to catch your mascot, first team is safe and gets an advantage in next weeks challenge, last will have to kick someone off. Oh and the waters shark invested, so be careful," he chuckled pissing most of them off and scaring the others.

At that point a few of them had a strong urge to hit him, but they all got in the row boats and headed to Boney Island.

[Static]

{Oook, now I know Chris is crazy, but this is just cruel! We have to catch a Bear!} Onceler complained, {A Bear! How Are We Going To Catch A Bear?! Those Things Are Freakin Huge Man! I've been here 10 minutes and I Already Want To Go Home!} the tall man crossed his arms and pouted.

[Static]

"Hey Oncie, if you don't mind me saying, you don't quite look like the type to be on a show like this," Punzie said as she rowed. "I'm not, but back home my family isn't the nicest, ever since my dad bailed on me, my mom and my brothers, she's been kinda... mean, though my aunt was never the nicest lady, things got worse since my dad wasn't around to keep them from picking on me and I signed up so I could get away from them, ya know?"

"I know what ya mean, my dad's a little thick headed, I came on this show so I could show him, I'm worth something-OW!" Hiccup explained until Astrid hit him with her paddle, "No Talking To The Enemies!" she barked.

[Static]

{Ok... that was a little harsh, but if there's something I've learned from watching this show, its that you have to be tough or they'll walk all over you, I mean there are only 6 girls, they guys have us out numbered, and girls are the only ones with enough braid cells to lead a team} She explained crossing her arms. {Trust me, back on berk most of them men have the mentality of 5 yr olds...}

[Static]

Hiccup rubbed his head and started rowing, "You didn't have to hit me ya know..." he complained and she ignored.

Jack and Tina rowed together until something shook the boat, "Uh... did you feel that?" the green haired girl asked worried, "Y-yeah..." the two looked at eachother and the two began to row, "Row For It Everyone!" Jack shouted knowing exactly what was in the water. "Wha...?" Evan asked looking at them as they rowed away, "Uh... Evan...?" he tapped his partners shoulder and the blue haired boy turned to the russian man, "Look..." he said pointing to the water and three fins appears from under its surface.

"Aah!" the two men picked up they paddles and rowed for there lives. "SHARKS!" Evan shouted as him and Nick rowed away as fast as they could followed by everyone else. Some of them were fast enough to get away, the other how ever were shark bait, Punzie and Oncie tried to row faster but they're arms were starting to hurt.

The boat rocked again as a shark swam under it, "Oh man!" Onceler shouted cared, the boat rocked more violently as it swam under again. "Aah!" Punzie screamed frightened. She wrapped her arms around the thin dark haired man and he did the same as they both screamed, it wasn't long before the two other sharks came after them from all the noise they were making.

"We're Gonna Die!" Oncie shouted scared out of his wits.

"I Don't Wanna Die!" Punzie cried.

the biggest shark emerged from the water and...

"Last time on Total Drama Big Four"

"Aah!" the two men picked up they paddles and rowed for there lives. "SHARKS!" Evan shouted as him and Nick rowed away as fast as they could followed by everyone else. [Camera switches back]

"So, now what will happen to our new cast, find out on this weeks episode of Total. Drama. Big. Four!"
>_

"We're Gonna Die!" Oncie shouted scared out of his wits.

"I Don't Wanna Die!" Punzie cried.

the biggest shark emerged from the water and... WHACK!

Punzie smacked it with her paddle, "Go Away You Big Bullies!" she screamed as she kept smacking them, "Oh... wow..." Oncie said as the sharks swam away, "You are one tough Chick..." Punzie smiled.

[Static]

{Every sweet girl's gotta have a tough side to survive...} Punzie smiled.

[Static]

Everyone sighed with relief as the sharks swam away, and kept paddling to shore along with Oncie and Punzie.

"C'mon lets get rowing before they come back," Punzie said and Onceler nodded. The two paddled trying to catch up with the others, once they got to the beach, most of them were worn out. Luckily they're group waited for them. The groups separated and went they're different ways to complete the challenge, hopefully with they're limbs intact.

"Hey Onceler, why are you named, The Onceler?" Eugen asked as they walked through the forest. "My mom said its because she wanted a son that only needed to be told something "Once" and he'd get it done. Which of course I always did, never once back talked her, though I would have if she told me not to sign up for the show, but they all laughed at me when I left... so it didn't matter..."

"Why was you mother so mean to you? It's not like it was your fault your dad left" Jamie said feeling a little bad for the been-pole like man. "Its because I'm the spitting image of my dad, so every time she looked at me.. she saw him... if anything this whole time she's just been trying to get rid of me... so she wouldn't have to look at me.." Onceler's walking sped up as he walked ahead.

He didn't like the thought of his own mother hating him so much, ever since his dad left, he tried his best to make her smile, he'd pick her flowers, and help around the house, heck he'd even cook for the whole family, but seeing that he was so much like his father at a young age, only made her wish he went with his father when he left. His father even asked if he wanted to go with him, but Onceler refused, wanting to make sure his mother would be ok.

He shook the thoughts from his head and kept walking with his team.

[Static]

{Ok... my life hasn't been the best, but I'm not going to let that get me down, I'm going to win this thing, you'll see...}

[Static]

Meanwhile on the other side of the island The Guardians had come into contact, with a few.. problems... ok they were being chased by the giant beavers. All six teens climbed up into the trees, and apparently the beavers thought it was too much of a bother to chew the wood up to get to them, lucky for them, big fat animals can be lazy. But still, unlucky that the beavers were gathered around the tree waiting for them to come down.

"So now what?" Evan asked the white haired teen, "How should I know?"

"Ok lets not start fighting," Tooth said trying not to fall from her branch. It wasn't long before a loud roar was heard and the beavers ran off scared. "Need a hand?" Venelope asked riding on the back of a huge black bear. Everyone looked at her with wide eyes and gaping mouths, "How... is that not attacking you?" Pitch asked wondering what was wrong with that creature. The little girl pulled out a candy bar from her bag and smiled, "Hunny Bunny bars, he loves them," she gave the bear the honey candy. "A few of these and he was puddy in my hands, well... later losers!" she laughed going off to find the rest of her team.

[Static]

{Candy, you can never go wrong with it}

[Static]

Hiccup and the rest of the vikings walked through the forest, the auburn haired teen was chewing on a piece of smoked fish jerky, something common in his home town, he had a few bags full in his bag, he had to eat something with the kind of food they were going to be served. The teen was snapped out of thought when he was nearly hit by a plasma blast, "Whoa!" he shouted ducking out of the way.

He looked to where it came from to see an ebony colored dragon not to far away from him. Its green eyes were narrowed, and its fangs where showing as it growled, "O-Oh hey there..." Hiccup gulped as it walked towards him. The dragon growled but then sniffed the teens hand when he was close enough to smell the fish. "Uh.. here..." Hiccup said holding out the jerky, which the dragon like creature licked up purring.

The black dragon sniffed him wanting more and Hiccup opened up his back pack, "Here ya go bud," he said taking out a few pieces of jerk, which he ate up. The dragon purred and nuzzled him happily as Hiccup petted and scratched him, "That's a good dragon..!" the dragon turned on his back and he rubbed his belly. His mouth hung open as his leg kicked happily.

"Huh.. Toothless..." Hiccup shrugged, the animal was growling at him with teeth, so he guessed it was a snakes teeth. After the two bonded for a few minutes, Hiccup took him back to the others and they headed for the beach. However were the seconds to last to get there, the first group that got there was the Knights, Once-ler had found a little brown bear, and they high tailed it back to the beach, the little guy sure did seem to like Once-ler's marshmallows.

The last to get there was the Braves, but they knew who they were kicking off first, that was for sure. Because of the radiation, the Guardians where able to find a giant Poodle Moth, which was a very fluffy, and very cute breed of moth, they decided to name it snow ball. Everyone named they're animals, and despite Astrid's yelling, Hiccup got Toothless to carry Coal, the bear, back.

Lucky for all of them that the most hurt any of them got was a scratch to the cheek or a small bite, Norman stepped on a little bears tail and it attacked, Jamie nearly got his face ripped off my a raccoon, and Evan got bitten by a squirrel.

By the time they got back to the camp it was close to dinner time, everyone either went to they're cabins to rest, or to the showers. For a few of them, mainly Once-ler, Hiccup, and Punzie, Jamie, Norman, and Venelope who needed to relax. After the shower they went back to they're cabins and flopped down on they're beds. "You guys ok?" Jack asked and they all just groaned. The dinner bell rang and everyone groaned as they made they're way to the mess hall.

The food smelt as bad as it looked. Astrid poked at her food and the green pile of mush hissed at her before hitting her with her fork and crawling off the table, "OK... That was freaky..." Hiccup said adjusting his glasses.

"OK, we can't eat like this..." Punzie said getting out of her seat and went into the kitchen, despite the others trying to stop her, and with a loud *Clank!* she hit chief with a fryingpan when he tried to stop her from doing anything. "Oncie, Hiccup, Venelope, could you guys help me in here?" She asked sweetly and they decided to just help make dinner, and Chief stayed out of they're way.

That night at the campfire, it was no surprise Wee Dingwall went home that night, leaving the others to sleep in they're cabins awaiting the up coming challenges.

Sorry this is bad, had to finish it quick or I'd forget about it.
